Investing in a smarter, stronger, more resilient grid

Our thermal inspection program helps us identify system issues that can't be seen with the naked eye.

From January through August, we'll be inspecting distribution lines with an infrared camera that can identify potential problems.

Our line crews then repair issues before they become a problem for you.

Thermal inspections: another innovative way for us to continue providing safe and reliable service!

Community Spotlight

We are part of the Maine community - and we love our seals, too!

We partnered with Marine Mammals of Maine (MMOME) to support the rehabilitation of a young gray seal, Breaker, who was found abandoned a few days after he was born.

As part of our donation, we were asked to name the sponsored seal. Our employees voted for "Breaker."

After a few months of care and lots of fish at the MMOME center for care, Breaker doubled his weight and was released back into the wild in Phippsburg, ME. Our own Katie Yates, CMP Community Relations Manager helped with the release.

MMOME is a nonprofit 501(c)3 charitable organization that provides veterinary services, assistance, and care to stranded marine animals in Maine's southern and midcoastal areas.

Breaker and an unnamed rescued MMOME seal are released back into the ocean in Phippsburg, ME.
